

CONNECT. COLLABORATE. CATALYZE RESEARCH.

Caperell, Kerri

I was born and raised in Pittsburgh and worked in finance prior to medical school in Philadelphia. I then returned to Pittsburgh to complete a pediatrics residency and pediatric emergency medicine fellowship. In 2011, I took a faculty job with the University of Louisville where I am currently an associate professor. My main research interests include asthma, headache, and large database mining.

I live in Louisville with my wife, 3 children, and dog.
