

CONNECT. COLLABORATE. CATALYZE RESEARCH.

Vaughn, Lisa

Lisa M. Vaughn, Ph.D. is Professor of Pediatrics at University of Cincinnati College of Medicine/Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center with a joint appointment in the Educational Studies Community-Based Action Research Concentration at the University of Cincinnati College of Education, Criminal Justice, and Human Services. She is formally trained as a social psychologist. Dr. Vaughn has specific training and a significant publication history in community-based participatory research, community engagement, qualitative research methodologies, and culturally relevant health care with a focus on understanding health disparities and promoting health equity specifically with minority and immigrant families and vulnerable youth. Over her academic career, she has been involved in a number of projects either as a Principal or Co-Investigator that engage community stakeholders in the research process and use innovative qualitative and participatory action research methodologies. Dr. Vaughn regularly teaches doctoral level classes in community-based participatory research, qualitative research, group process, and research methods at University of Cincinnati.