

Ponda, Punita

Dr. Punita Ponda, is Associate Division Chief, and Assistant Fellowship Training Program Director in the Division of Allergy and Immunology at Cohen Children's Medical Center, Northwell Health System. She is also the Director of the FARE Clinical Center of Excellence at Northwell. Dr. Ponda completed her undergraduate degree at Cornell University and obtained her Doctor of Medicine degree at the State University Health Science Center at Brooklyn in 2000. Her pediatric residency training and fellowship in Allergy and Immunology were obtained at Cohen Children's Medical Center, formerly known as, Schneider Children's Hospital.

Dr. Ponda's current research in the field of Allergy and Immunology, is focused on the mechanisms of development of immunological tolerance in children. She conducts translational research in Food Allergy and the Microbiome, in coordination with researchers at the Feinstein Institute of Medical Research. She also has a clinical practice in Great Neck, New York and teaching responsibilities as Assistant Professor in Pediatrics and Medicine, at the Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell.